Re: The Redland Company

To Whom It May Concern:

The Redland Company (TRC) has performed work for our corporation on several occasions and in all instances has done exemplary work. Currently they are performing work for us on our Tamiami Trail Project that we are under contract with the US Army Corps of Engineers in Miami, FL. This project is in the heart of the Everglades and poses many environmental challenges that TRC has been diligent with in their compliance.

At Kiewit, Safety is first and TRC has been a valuable partner in our goal of Nobody Gets Hurt! Their proactive approach towards training and incident prevention has helped us in our pursuit of this goal. This has been accomplished while pursuing an aggressive job schedule and without sacrificing the quality of the work.

TRC has been, and continues to be a valuable contractor that we would definitely consider for future use.

Sincerely,
